

Waterfall Launches SRM Suite; the impenetrable solution for Securing Remote Monitoring

Waterfall's new secure manual uplink (SMU) technology complements the company's unique comprehensive solution for securing remote monitoring

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 10th 2008 - Waterfall Solutions Ltd., the leading provider of secure unidirectional connectivity for Remote Monitoring, IP Surveillance Infrastructure & SCADA Systems launched today the first impenetrable suite for securing remote monitoring.

Remote monitoring entails connecting production networks and equipment over public networks to a control center or to a third party, which provide monitoring and maintenance services. Without the WF-SRM suite businesses employing remote monitoring would be exposed to data theft, online attacks and other related threats.

Remote infrastructure management and managed systems are fast growing markets. The existing security solutions are not secure enough and do not protect businesses against corporate espionage, cyber terror, and other emerging online threats. The WF-SRM suite is the only unidirectional solution that also allows for a secure manual uplink, providing the end user the complete security of unidirectional connectivity while affording the convenience of the SMU capability.

"As the threat of cyber-terror and online attacks grow in the remote monitoring industry, the WF-SRM suite will prove to be the only sure-fire solution that will keep your remotely managed facilities fully secure, while providing the customer with flexible and controlled maintenance capabilities when required", said Lior Frenkel, Waterfall Solutions' Co-Founder and CTO. "For the first time end users can enjoy the benefits of remote monitoring without having to compromise their security."

About Waterfall Solutions:

Waterfall Solutions Ltd. is the leading provider of secure unidirectional connectivity for Remote Monitoring, IP Surveillance Infrastructure & SCADA Systems. Developed in 2004 to meet the needs of the Israeli MOD (Ministry of Defense), Waterfall has been deployed in many homeland security and critical national infrastructure organizations, as well as a large variety of financial & enterprise customers.

The Company is expanding globally through channel, OEM, and technology partnerships. For more information, please visit our website www.waterfall-solutions.com

Media Contact:

JSR International Marketing

Josh Reinstein

Tel: +972 50 752 5521

jreinstein@jsr.co.il